GCP Tourism to Host Antique Appraisal Fair Preview Party

Greeneville, Tenn. – The Tourism Department of the Greene County Partnership has announced the times for its very popular Antique Appraisal Fair & Show Preview Party.

On Friday night, February 14, from 7-9 p.m., the committee will host the second annual Preview Party at Greeneville High School. For a cost of $10 per person, all who attend will be able to shop the antique dealers early, get to meet and greet with some of the appraisers, enjoy light refreshments, and live entertainment provided by Tyler and Sammy Warren.

Tyler Warren and Sammy Warren love to perform many musical genres — from gospel/bluegrass and contemporary Christian to classic country and rock favorites. The Warren cousins are both members of the Sunday morning worship band at Greeneville's Freedom Fellowship Church, located at 3144 W. Andrew Johnson Hwy.

They have performed together at several community events during the past year, including at Mosheim Fun Days, Meadow Creek Community Day, Dogwood Park, and the South Greene Band Bazaar. At some of those events, the Warrens have joined forces with another musical family, Dr. Tim Fuller and daughter, Emily, to form the group "Warren & Fuller."

Tickets are on sale now at the Greene County Partnership at 115 Academy Street, and at Richland Creek Gifts located at 129 North Main Street. The event's title sponsor is the Greeneville City School System. Additional sponsors are Takoma Regional Hospital, Food City, DTR, Tennessee, REXEL, CenturyLink, WGRV/WIKQ/WSMG, Rodefer Moss, WCYB, Consumer Credit Union, Print Distribution Services, Sam's Wholesale, Corley's Pharmacy, Madaris Siding & Windows and The Greeneville Sun.
